May 2013 be filled with Magical Moments . . .

December 25, 2012

Happy New Year!

It's no surprise that we are late yet again getting our newsletter out. We left for Big White right after Thanksgiving and didn't get home until after Christmas.

Looking back, we are so thankful for our good health, great friends and loving family. We look forward to facing all that 2013 brings—water and snow skiing, hiking and biking while tripping around the US.

Stay in touch. We love hearing from everyone. Connect with us on Facebook or via e-mail. AND if you are ever in San Diego, be sure to give us a call as we have a couple of spare bedrooms just waiting for company.

Skiing . . .

Yes, we did ski again this year... a lot. We do love our skiing—whether on water or snow.

Besides snow skiing four weeks at Big White (Canada), we skied Vail (CO), Beaver Creek (CO), Powder Mountain (UT), Snowbasin (UT), Red Mountain (Canada), Taos (NM) and Durango (CO). It rained when we tried to ski Sundance (UT). Maybe next year. We are looking forward to another great line up for 2013.

We water skied our typical NINE extended weekends on the Colorado River. The situation at Park Moabi is now under new management and has been drastically changed. We have been actively looking for a new venue along the same stretch of the river for skiing with the Radar River Rats.

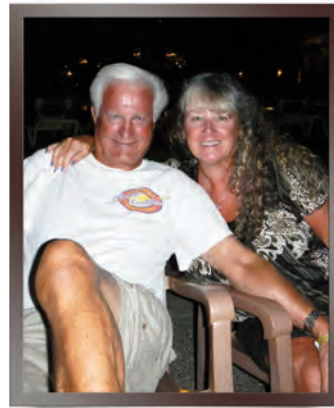

The sign says it all... Big White Perfection.

Hiking ...

In September we tagged along with our water ski friends Trudy and Simone for some hiking through Bryce and Zion National Parks. The areas are so beautiful. While we mostly missed the rain, it did cause the narrows to be closed. Really good fun.

Convention ...

Attended the Far West Ski Convention in Ogden and put on one great Pub Crawl on Historic 25th Street. We also took a group white water rafting on the Weber River. Afterwards we went for a week of hiking in Park City.

Cabo ...

Spent a week at the all-inclusive Solaris with Peggy & Steve in Cabo. Again it was great! We ATV'd, walked the beach, relaxed by the pool, snorkeled and enjoyed amazing sun rises. We've already made our reservations for 2013. Cabo anyone?

Hawaii ...

We went to the main island with Fay & Jillie in November. We enjoyed perfect weather and fun times. Finally got to view the USS Missouri at Pearl Harbor. Hanauma Bay was awesome. Too bad there wasn't enough time to do everything.
